Have A Healthy Green Lawn!!

Aeration is a process which relieves compaction of soil without excessive injury to grass plants. Coring tines penetrate and eject cores onto the surface area where they are left as a mulch-top-dressing, re-using the better portion of the soil.

Why Aerate? The average homeowner uses up to 50% of their water on lawns and gardens. Aeration reduces water runoff by 20%-50% and promotes deeper drought resistant roots.

Benefits:

- Reduces water runoff and puddling
- Improves soil water absorption
- Enhances heat and drought stress tolerance
- Promotes thatch breakdown
